The Silent Voter.

Evidently the X-Rays of Guerneville does not approve of the Australian ballot system. In its issue of last week our contemporary says:

Out of 168 votes cast in Sonoma precinct only two were voted straight. The other 166 were scattered. It looks as though the Australian ballot was created simply and solely to defeat the sense of political parties as expressed at the primary elections and party conventions. The minority in county conventions wrecks vengeance on successful candidates by secretly knitting hem in the seclusion of the voting booth.

It don't look that way to us. There must be something faulty about the penetrating powers of the X-Ray in Guerneville when it comes to searching into politics. The Australian ballot system was not created to defeat the sense of political parties as expressed at primary elections, but as a weapon that has been placed in the hands of the silent voter to exercise the rights of American citizenship and to vote for whom he pleases without let or hindrance from political heels and bosses. Too often delegates to county, State and district conventions do not express the wishes of the voters whom they are supposed to represent in convention, no matter how hard they may strive to do so. The political boss, in order to control the offices, appointments and patronage, gets in his work and by wire-pulling and chicanery thwarts the will of the people and succeeds in nominating a ticket to suit his selfish desires. It is right here that the free and independent voter resorts to his best and truest political friend—the Australian ballot. He enters the election booth and silently and alone, with none to make him afraid, stamps his ticket as he truly and conscientiously believes it ought to be stamped. This system of voting may not suit the political manipulator but it is a mighty good thing for the taxpayer, be he Republican or Democrat, who desires above all things an honest and economical administration of State and county affairs.

Money for the Firemen.

Fire Insurance Commissioner Andrew J. Clunie has turned over to Sonoma county the sum of $400.70 which amount will be distributed among the fire companies of Sonoma county. The money will be apportioned according to the assessed valuation of property in the several cities. Santa Rosa will receive $215.90; Petaluma, $110.60; Healdsburg, $40.40; Sonoma, $17.80; Cloverdale, $16. This $400.70 is an allowance of one per cent upon all business done in the county by foreign insurance companies not organized under the laws of California. This is the first time the Sonoma county fire companies have received the benefit.

PROPERTY OWNERS in the blocks which have not as yet been furnished by the city with street lights claim that they are being unjustly neglected. They say, and with good reason, too, that it is not fair to light one part of the town and leave the other part in darkness; that they are paying their share toward furnishing the other fellows a light which is being withheld from them. Make your complaints to the Trustees, gentlemen.

THERE is but one right way to advertise and that is to hammer your name, your occupation, your business so thoroughly into the people's heads that if they walk in their sleep they will constantly turn their steps toward your store. The newspaper is your friend. It helps to build up the community that supports you.—Ex.

Stanford was defeated by Berkeley in the big ball game in San Francisco by a score 22 to 0. The University of California boys virtually moped the earth with the Stanford and out-pointed them at every stage of the game.

LYMAN GREEN of Petaluma is rumored will be appointed Deputy in District Attorney-elect Webber's office.

Duhring has made a big cut on flour. He is now selling Port Costa at $1.10 and Oregon at $1.00 per sack.

Thanksgiving.

There is much in this world to be thankful for. There is much in this valley to be thankful for.

According to the President's proclamation many assembled in houses of worship throughout this land that Thanksgiving might be done to the Lord. This is a custom hallowed by long observance, and it is good from the standpoint of the Church as well as that of the State. The very idea of Thanksgiving causes us to attempt the recall of events for which we may offer thanks. It carries us back through a year. It invites us to marshal the experiences of a life time. Thus it fastens our hold upon the past and forces us to view our acts in the light of right.

There is grandeur and solemnity in the thought of a great Nation assembling at the hest of its Chieftain and lifting hands of prayer to God—mighty anthems swelling into the blue dome of heaven, majestic humility acknowledging the ordinances of God. In the contemplation of such thoughts the mind grows to the measure of them.

One of the causes of the extraordinary development of the Greek mind and art is to be found in the great religious festivals of Greece. The Greek was constantly confronted by the infinite. Just as the eye of the sailor is made strong because it is peering into great distances, so the mental eye or intelligence of the Greek was made strong by attempting to acquaint itself with the vistas of infinity that stretched away through the pure ether where Minerva won her way into the unknown God.

It is in the light of love that this civilization of which we are part and parcel has been built up, and thankfulness is the expression of love. But this expression is not limited to any season. We may be thankful constantly outside of Church, outside of State, or if you will including both, we may be thankful individually. This thankfulness may consist in honestly trying to see the good and beauty in things, and not only seeing it but acknowledging it. Nothing is more natural in the human heart than expectation of some deed of praise when a good action is done—when hard striving has wrought out some beauty. Then acknowledgment of the same comes like a benediction. The beautiful things of this world are far in excess of the ugly, yet we hear more about the ugly. There is no wealth in this kind of thing.

A national Thanksgiving is well but daily thankfulness to our fellow men will make it richer—batter.

A Fleshy Consumptive

Did you ever see one? Did you ever hear of one? Most certainly not. Consumption is a disease that invariably causes loss of flesh.

If you are light in weight, even if your cough is only a slight one, you should certainly take

Scott's Emulsion of cod liver oil with hypophosphites. No remedy is such a perfect preventive to consumption. Just the moment your throat begins to weaken and you find you are losing flesh, you should begin to take it. And no other remedy has cured so many cases of consumption. Unless you are far advanced with this disease, Scott's Emulsion will hold every inducement to you for a perfect cure.

All Druggists, etc., and $1.00 per bottle. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, N. Y.

Can you do better than to take THE OVERLAND for 1899? Here are ONE THOUSAND PAGES of the fresh, strong work of the men and women of the West, writers who have lived the life of which they write, and seen and felt the things they describe, and FIVE HUNDRED PICTURES the work of the most talented artists of a region that has produced many such, and is producing them all the time. ALL FOR ONE DOLLAR. Every dime you spend for the magazine, and every copy that you read or send to a friend is helping THE OVERLAND in its great mission set before it in 1808, when Bret Harte gave it its motto: "Devoted to the Development of the Country." Put the Overland on your list for 1899.

Fruit Growers.

Much interest is being taken by fruit growers generally in the approaching Convention of Fruit Growers, which will hold its sessions at Fresno, commencing on Tuesday next. From letters received at the office of the State Board of Horticulture, it promises to be one of the largest gatherings of fruit men ever held in the State. The growers everywhere realize the unfortunate condition of the fruit industry at present and every effort is being made to induce growers and others interested to attend the sessions. The question of marketing and increasing the consumption of fruit and fruit products will be one of the chief topics discussed. Hon. Ellwood Cooper of Santa Barbara, in his annual address, will make important recommendations with a view of remedying the existing condition of affairs, which the Convention will be asked to adopt. The question of legislation to prevent the sale of infested fruit will also receive the attention of the Convention. European countries are legislating against the admission of infested fruit. The German embargo on our fruit shipments has been extended to include dried and cured fruits of all kinds, notwithstanding that the German government has been advised that there can be no ground for fear, as no pest can withstand the treatment that fruit undergoes in curing, and also after this fact having been conclusively proven to their representative by tests made by the Department of Agriculture at Washington. The markets of Puget Sound, Portland and Victoria are virtually closed against California infested fruit. The growers realize that something must be done at once to stop the practice of shipping infested fruit greatly to the detriment of sound fruit. Dr. Chester Rowell, G. H. Warlow and John S. Dore of Fresno will deliver addresses of welcome. Col. H. Weinstein, President of the California Fruit Growers and Shippers' Association, will present the report of the Association, in which will be given a review of the season's operations. A full discussion will follow, in which Gen. N. P. Chipman of Red Bluff, Col. Philo Hersey of San Jose, Frank H. Buck of Vacaville and other eminent speakers are expected to take part. The question of the conditions of the movement for the establishment of a Free Public Market in San Francisco will be presented by a committee. New fruit creations, and their merits will be one of the important features discussed, as it is the general desire that only such new fruits be planted for which there will be a demand. The condition of the raisin industry will be shown in an essay by Theodore Kearney of Fresno, and a review of the season's operations of the Raisin Growers' Association will follow. Among other subjects that will be considered are, commercial fertilizers and legislation to regulate the sale of same, drainage, irrigation, husbanding water for use in years of draught, methods in citrus culture, the olive industry, cross pollination of fruits, etc. The Southern Pacific Company and the San Joaquin Railroad Company offer special rates to all desiring to attend the Convention. The local committee of arrangements, representing the Fresno Horticultural Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the One Hundred Thousand Club and the Merchants' Association, report having everything in readiness for the sessions, which will be held in Eugene Hall, opposite the Hughes Hotel, and that no effort will be spared to make the meeting profitable and interesting. All who attend will be treated to an excursion through the orchards, vineyards, wineries and packing houses, to be followed by a reception and entertainment in the evening. An elaborate display of fruit and fruit products will be made; also a display of raisins, showing the new grades and qualities adopted by the Raisin Growers' Association the rooms of which will be open to public inspection, affording growers a rare opportunity to see the methods employed in successful operation.

Fred. Spaulding returned on his steam launch to San Francisco last Sunday. Mr. Spaulding had been on Sonoma creek hunting several days last week.

W. B. Pless, well known in Sonoma valley, is now interested with a wealthy syndicate in Alaska and preparations are almost complete for dredging the Yukon by his company.

Newton V. Smyth, County Surveyor-elect, who received a majority of 109 votes in this Township at the recent election, writes us that he thanks his Sonoma Valley friends for remembering him on election day.

Ladies' gold watch given away to person guessing nearest how long the above watch will run. For further particulars call when in town. O. M. Campbell, the Jeweler, Corner Washington & Main streets, Petaluma.

Mrs. L. Brittain, on Sunday last lost a valuable diamond ear-drop on the street between Schooken's corner and the Sonoma Valley Bank building. Mr. Brittain offered a reward of $25 for the recovery of the gem. On Tuesday Henry Flower discovered the sparkler lying just off the edge of the sidewalk in front of Ruffner's store and returned it to the owner. The diamond was valued at $125.

On Tuesday and Wednesday—last days of November—at Union Hall, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church will hold their annual Festival for Christmas gifts and to add to home happiness. BURGLARIZED.

The Haven Residence at Agua Gallente Ransacked

From Cellar to Garret—The Burglars Make Off With a Quantity of Wearing Apparel.

On Sunday night last burglars effected an entrance into the country residence of Mrs. C. D. Haven and ransacked it from cellar to garret. The family removed to their Alameda home some months ago and no one was in the house at the time and the thieves had things all their own way without fear of molestation. Rooms were forced, bureaus broken into and ransacked, and their contents strewn about the floors of the house. The thieves evidently expected to make a rich haul but were disappointed, as most of the valuables belonging to the family were taken with them when they returned to their city home. A quantity of wearing apparel was secured by the thieves, who in their rage and disappointment at the small amount of booty secured, deliberately emptied the contents of several jars of sauces and jams on the beds and floor of the dwelling.

Officer Ohm has a clew to the burglars which may lead to their detection and arrest. In forcing their way through a window into the house the thieves lost a necktie which, together with a button from the coat of one of the men, is now in his hands.

THE RAIN.

Precipitation Monday Night a Welcome Visitor.

The rain which fell in this valley last Monday night and Tuesday morning was a most welcome visitor to both farmer and dairyman. The drops fell gently and steadily throughout the night and the ground received a thorough soaking. A large area of land has already been plowed and seeded and with a few weeks favorable weather grain will have commenced to get a good start. Feed never was so scarce at this season of the year and many of our dairymen have been to considerable expense in feeding their stock hay and grain, but with a few more showers this month the wild grasses will afford abundant pasturage the balance of the season. According to Signal Observer Hall's rain gauge the precipitation for the season has been 1.60 inches. The rainfall last year for the same period was 4.30 inches.

Y. M. I. Ball.

The Y. M. I. scored a great social success Wednesday night (Thanksgiving eve), the event being the thirteenth annual ball given at Union Hall, under the auspices of Sonoma Valley Council, No. 45. Party-going people from Glen Ellen, the California Home and Schellville were present as well as a large number of Sonoma's young people. The assemblage numbered thirty-five or forty couples and the evening was one of thorough enjoyment. Excellent music was furnished by Parks' Santa Rosa orchestra and at midnight mine host A. A. Euke of the Union Hotel spread a delicious supper. At 8 A. M. the strains of "Home, Sweet Home," brought to a close one of the most successful parties ever given in this city.

Petty Thievery.

Numerous complaints are being made in and around town of petty thievery. Hen roosts, have been robbed, harness and robes stolen and everything that the petty thieves could lay their hands on without fear of detection have disappeared under cover of darkness. Mrs. Millie Bates' hen roost, among others, was raided the night before Thanksgiving and two large hens stolen. The thieves, as if to leave a gentle reminder of their visit, wrung the necks of the fowls and flung their decapitated heads into Mrs. Bates back yard.

An Important Difference.

MARTI WILL CASE.

Judge Burnett's Decision in the Celebrated Suit.

The Widow Awarded One-Half the Property Outright and a Life Interest in the Other Half.

When M. Marti, the well known Swiss dairyman of this valley, died in February, 1897, leaving an estate worth $20,000 or $30,000 to the widow, he stipulated in the will that she in turn should devise one-half of the property willed to her to his relatives. When the will went to probate Mrs. Anna Anderson, a sister of deceased, contested the document. Shortly after the contest was started Mrs. Anderson died and the case was dismissed.

The three children of Mrs. Anderson then re-opened the contest by petitioning for a share of the estate. Many knotty legal problems were raised as Marti had willed to his wife community property in which she already had a half interest.

Judge Burnett rendered a decision in the case Monday. He held that Mrs. Marti was entitled to the homestead but that she could not hold the rest of the property through both the will and the right of succession as the one was inconsistent with the other. The court awarded the widow one-half the property outright and a life interest in the other half.

Glen Ellen.

Mrs. J. A. Poppe, Sonoma's lady merchant, spent several days in Glen Ellen this week.

At the Chauvet residence near Glen Ellen J. Bush of Windsor was pleasantly entertained last Sunday.

Geo. W. Beatty has sold land in Glen Ellen and the town of Kenwood to J. Chauvet. The price paid was $4,000.

Last Tuesday C. J. Poppe celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of his birth. The occasion was made happy by the assembling of a number of his relatives at his home in the pretty town of Glen Ellen, where Mr. Poppe is a prosperous merchant and also Postmaster.

Brevities.

Samuel Jones, brother of U. S. Senator Jones is visiting his ranch near Embarcadero.

A. C. Hirschfeld, brother of W. Hirschfeld, returned Wednesday to San Francisco after a year's absence in the wilds of Alaska and British Columbia. He is engaged in business in Atlen, B. C., which is a couple of hundred miles from Skagway. Mr. Hirschfeld will visit Sonoma the coming week and will be the guest of S. Schocken.

Narrow Escape.

John Pine of San Francisco was seriously injured near Valley Ford one day last week, says the Sonoma Sun. Mr. Pine had been sojourning on the Clark ranch at the latter place for some time. He was out riding and while going over a bridge his animal became frightened and jumped into the ravine, which is about twenty feet deep. The rider was not given the slightest warning and consequently he went down with the horse. At the bottom of the ravine are a number of large boulders and on these the charger and rider struck. Mr. Pine was very severely bruised and for a time it was feared that his injuries would prove fatal. The horse was killed by the terrible leap and it is a miracle that the rider is alive to tell the tale.

Cave Up Hope

Feared Her Little Boy Could Not Recover

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Him Well and Strong.

"My little boy was taken with inflammatory rheumatism when he was two years old. Some one had to sit up with him every night. At one time we thought he could not live from day to day. We had a heart trouble caused by the rheumatism. I had about given up all hope of his recovery, but I got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before he had taken half the contents he began to improve. He kept on gaining and now he is well and strong and goes to school every day. I owe his life to Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. P. S. LOCKRIDGE, 1323 West Second Street, Los Angeles, Cal.

COUNTY HAPPENINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Williams of Petaluma celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage on Sunday at the home of their grandson George P. McNear of that city.

G. A. Codoni has brought suit in the Superior Court of this county against Joseph B. De Carley to recover $2142.25 alleged to be due on a promissory note. Mr. De Carley is defendant in two other actions, L. Filosi and V. Foresti are suing him to recover $660 alleged to be due them for cutting wood.

Mrs. Clara Winkelman, who recently took five shots at Fred. Husted in a San Francisco lodging house, was formerly Miss Callie Birkland of Petaluma, says the Courier, and her child has been in the latter place with relatives. She left her husband some time ago and went to live with Husted, who was also at one time a resident of Petaluma.

Charles E. Colwell of Santa Rosa has filed his petition for letters of administration on the estate of his deceased sister, Miss Alice Colwell of Kenwood. The property left by the deceased is of the probable value of $4,000 and includes real estate in Santa Rosa, San Francisco, Redwood City and Tulare. Miss Colwell left no will. Charles E. Colwell, the petitioner and Harry E. Colwell of San Diego county are the heirs at law.

The Petaluma Sportsmen's Club blue jay hunt, last Friday, Saturday and Sunday, resulted in the killing of 820 blue jays and 51 hawks. Mr. Vonsen carried off first prize of $10 with a score of 211 jays and five hawks. The object of the club in giving these hunts is to exterminate birds of prey, particularly jays and hawks which destroy countless numbers of quail eggs during the nesting season.

Marshal Collins of Petaluma has lodged Andrew De Martin in the Santa Rosa Jail. The man resisted the officers while being taken from the jail to the bus and in the struggle was considerably cut about the head, the wound bleeding profusely. He was placed on the train with difficulty and landed safely at the county jail. On the way up he told Marshal Collins that if he could have escaped to where his Winchester was hid he would never have been captured alive.

On Monday morning Judge S. K. Dougherty made the necessary order for the payment into the county treasury of the sum of $742.10 in the matter of the estate of the late Lincoln G. Lane, says the Santa Rosa Press Democrat. The money will be held in the treasury in trust until the rightful heir is found. The heir to this fortune is Eugene A. Lane, who was last heard of in Ovid, New York. Should this come to the eye of some one who knows the missing heir and he is informed of his windfall, he will be doubtless much pleased, and will lose no time in letting the court know of his whereabouts.

Santa Rosa is becoming noted of late as a field for bigamists. It was only a few weeks ago one Albrecht was convicted in that city of bigamy and sent to the penitentiary. Now comes George S. Ames, says the San Francisco Chronicle, a member of the Alameda Board of Library Trustees, a Mason, and well-known as a marine engineer, who is being sought for on a charge of bigamy. He was married on September last to Miss Tessie Skelly at Santa Rosa, having at the time a wife living in Alameda. Ames' crime has been known heretofore to only a few, but the other day Samuel Crooks of Santa Rosa gave the details of the marriage and delivering him up to justice. Ames left the State soon after his marriage to Miss Skelly and his present abode is unknown. His lawful wife will also prosecute him for bigamy, though she is at a loss to account for his deed. The Sonoma county records show that George Spencer Ames, aged 36, and Tessie Skelly, aged 30, were married on September 7th by the Rev. W. Martin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and that Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crooks were witnesses of the marriage.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars reward for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Hand Book of the Tariff.

The understanding of the complicated provisions of the new tariff has been greatly simplified by the issuance of this manual, which contains decisions of the Federal Courts, General Appraisers and the Secretary of the Treasury on mooted points. To digest the tariff law is no easy task, but to digest the food taken into the gastric receptacles is rendered facile and agreeable by the systematic use of that thorough stomachic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This is a family medicine of comprehensive uses. It prevents and kills malaria, indigestion and cholera, remedies nervousness and insomnia, and removes constipation and biliousness. Appetite, as well as the ability to satisfy it without subsequent abdominal disturbance, is restored by this fine stomachic, which also accelerates convalescence. Persons in the decline of life and the infirm of every age and sex find it of material assistance.

SONOMA, SATURDAY, NOV. 26, 1898.

A Brazilian Indian Story.

Here is a Brazilian Indian story, says the New York Times. The jaguar and the monkey met. The jaguar had a luscious bunch of plantains which the monkey craved. "I will gladly give you the plantains," said the jaguar, "providing you catch a fawn for me." "Agreed," cried the monkey. "But," added the jaguar, "if you do not get the fawn you must promise to let me bite a mouthful out of you." "Agreed," once more cried the gleeful monkey. The monkey ate the plantains, and the little matter about the fawn quite slipped his memory.

Then one day the jaguar met the monkey and insisted on taking his pay out of the monkey's hide. The business, becoming serious, was left to the peccari to decide. "It seems all right enough," said the peccari, "only this: How am I to determine what is the exact size of a jaguar's mouthful and also where is he to bite? He had better refer the matter to the big snake." The big snake took the subject under consideration. His judgment was that he would have to swallow the jaguar, the monkey and the peccari. The jaguar and peccari he did at once assimilate, but the monkey, being nimble, escaped.

A Burglar's Mistake.

"When I looked into the dining room of a house that I was in one night," said the retired burglar, "I saw a man sitting in a chair perched upon the dining room table. That seemed a singular place for a man to get to sit, drunk or sober, but I thought I'd have to give him a chance to get tired of sitting there and go to bed before I began, for if I didn't he might wake up any minute and interrupt things. So I took a seat in a big leather chair in the library, next room, and waited for him to wake up. When I'd waited what I thought was a reasonable time without hearing from him, I looked in again, and there he was, still sitting there, just the same."

"But this time, even in that light, there was something peculiar about him, and I ventured to turn my own light on him now, and then I saw that it wasn't a man at all, but a suit of clothes, with a hat on top, set up there to dry after being wet in the rain. The man that had worn them had been abed and asleep for hours, but his clothes had served for a scarecrow mightily well, for I'd sat there waiting for them to get to bed so long that it was now too late for business."—New York Sun.

Clothespins.

Clothespins are an American commodity. Some clothespins are made in Sweden and in Scotland, but they are big and clumsy, twice the size of the American pins and whittled out by hand. Clothespins are made chiefly of beech and of maple, but some are made of tupelo wood. They are made entirely by machinery, mounted into boxes containing 750 each by machinery, and the boxes are nailed up by machinery. It might almost be said that blocks of wood fed to machines at one end come out boxed clothespins at the other. They are made and sold wonderfully cheap.

There are two grades of clothespins, firsts and seconds. First grade pins can be bought for 35 cents a box. The production of clothespins is enormous, millions of boxes annually. The consumption in this country keeps pace with the growth of the population, and great numbers are exported. Even people in the trade wonder what becomes of all the clothespins.

What Bothered Him.

"When I was a young man," says a well known civil engineer, "I was surveying the route of a proposed railway. An old farmer with whom I stopped for a time admitted one day, when he saw me figuring in the field, that mathematics always seemed a wonderful thing to him. Being young and enthusiastic, I began to enlarge his wonders, telling him how we could measure the distances to different planets, and even weigh them; how we could ascertain the height of mountains without scaling them; and many other things which I meant should astonish him.

"You can imagine how he set me back when he replied to this brilliant array of facts by saying: 'Yes, yes, them things does seem kinder cur'us, but what ails bothered me was to understand why you have to carry one fur every ten, but if you don't the darned thing won't come out right.'"—New York Tribune.

"Billington's Sea."

There is tangible evidence that the pious passengers of the Mayflower were not entirely without a sense of humor. Back of Plymouth over the hill upon which they planted their cannon is a large fresh water pond, perhaps a mile in diameter, which, it appears from the records, was discovered by John Billington while he was prowling around one night, probably on a scouting expedition looking for Indians. In the morning he reported that he had found the sea in that direction and there was a lively dispute between him and the other pilgrims as to the accuracy of his information. He stuck to his theory with the same tenacity that he adhered to his religion, and to this day that pond is called "Billington's sea."—Chicago Record.

Beyond Medical Skill.

Master—Late again, Sandy! Can't you manage to get here in time?
Sandy (with a doleful hesitancy)—I can't sleep o' nights, sor, and so I'm loath to get up in the mornin'.
Master—Eh, man, sleeplessness! Why don't you consult a doctor and get at the cause?
Sandy—I get at the cause weel enough, but it'll no shut up. It's 6 weeks and an awful yellor.—Glasgow Times.
